

After reporting to work, I was ordered to go home after the Employer claimed I was exhibiting symptoms of sickness. I was told that I would have to use my sick time, other contractual leave, or be placed in leave without pay status until my perceived sickness was over or for a prescribed time period determined by the Employer. I was willing and able to work, and was not allowed to work. I am currently willing and able to work, and am not being allowed to work. I did not request sick time pursuant to Article 13 of the Collective Bargaining Agreement, or any other contractual leave. I did not agree to use such leave. Any leave request received by me was made at the direction of the Employer.
